Office & Commercial Real Estate

EXPO

returns to
Drury Lane – Oakbrook Terrace

Featuring:

- FREE admission to the EXPO
- Pre-EXPO Keynote Lunch*
- Local, suburban property focus
- Special Prizes just for Building Engineers
- Refreshments, entertainment, CASH prize drawings, networking
- “BOMA-CAN” construction competition to benefit the Northern Illinois Food Bank
... and exhibitor prizes, too!

Past attendees have called the EXPO, “More than just a trade show ... the commercial real estate networking event of they year.” The 2012 EXPO promises to be all that suburban property professionals have come to expect – and more!

The EXPO, which opens at 2:00 p.m., will bring together suppliers featuring products and services valuable to the suburban property professional, addressing both the basic and “green” needs of commercial properties. A “one-stop shopping opportunity” – bring your RFPs!

Preceding the EXPO, the Keynote Lunch* will feature Lorie Damon, Ph.D, Vice President, Education and Research, BOMA International, discussing the Experience Exchange Report (EER).

Come and discover new ways to efficiently and effectively manage your commercial properties. Take a few minutes to sit and talk with friends and peers in the industry while enjoying refreshments and light entertainment.

Take a leap – spend your extra day at EXPO ...

This could be the best afternoon you spend this year!

Lorie Damon, Ph.D

“Experience Exchange Report (EER) — how to participate, how to use it”

Presented by: Lorie Damon, Ph.D
Vice President, Education and Research
BOMA International

The Experience Exchange Report — the industry’s leading resource for operating performance data for office buildings — is a powerful, versatile tool. giving property managers convenient, online access to data from more than 6500 buildings and 250 markets. With custom search features and exportable tables/charts, subscribers get the operating performance data and analysis needed to:

- build better budgets
- track key asset performance indicators
- evaluate income and expenses
- identify ways to trim expenses and bolster NOI
- evaluate and refine operating strategies
- and much more!

Lorie Damon joined BOMA in 2002 as Director of Education and led BOMA’s efforts to expand its education offerings. In 2007, she was named Vice President of a newly-created Education and Research Department and assumed responsibility for all of BOMA’s education offerings as well as for its flagship research product, the Experience Exchange Report.

Under Lorie’s direction, BOMA transitioned from offering exclusively classroom-based courses to offering education in multi-media platforms, and developed several critically acclaimed programs, including BOMA’s executive education program, Emerging Leaders in Real Estate. On the research side, Lorie and her team guided the expansion and adaptation of the EER from a printed book to an entirely web-based research tool.
